Fire Strikes North End Hotel Monday

City firemen are seen in the top picture as they battled stubborn flames which gutted two stories of the Fairview Hotel, 7102 118 avenue, Monday afternoon. They are shown pouring water into upper floor room suites, where the fire is believed to have started.

In the lower photo, roomers at the hotel are seen salvaging effects through rear entrance to the building, after firemen had the blaze under control.

Six Crash Survivors Brought Out

Hunt 5 Men Missing in Arctic

By Keith Hedreen
 NOME, Alaska, Dec. 30.—(BUP)—Bush pilots, army airmen and men with dogs teams searched the icy slopes of Mt. Serpentine 100 miles north of here today for five men still missing as the result of a B-29 crash a week ago.
 TWO OF THE missing men were crewmen of the superfortress which crashed while on an Arctic training mission. The other three were paratroopers who dropped to the rescue of the B-29 crew but became lost in an Arctic blizzard.
 All eight crew members of the B-29 which ploughed into Mt. Serpentine survived the crash. Six men who huddled in the wreckage of the plane were rescued yesterday by bush pilots. All were suffering from exposure. One had a broken leg and another had his face frozen.
 The missing crewmen left the wreckage on Christmas day for Shishmaref, a small settlement 40 miles away.

 AIR SEARCH had to be confined to four hours daily, the length of an Arctic day. Air force officials said they were not worried about the three paratroopers—their names were not released—because all were well-trained and fully equipped to survive in Arctic weather.
 The missing airmen were not dressed for the 30-degree below zero weather, however. Bush pilots said they were not worried about the three paratroopers—their names were not released—because all were well-trained and fully equipped to survive in Arctic weather.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS IS $50,000; 70 PERSONS LEFT HOMELESS

Landmark of City Swept by Flames

The year 1947 ended unhappily for 70 Edmonton residents Monday afternoon, when they watched their lodgings and all possessions save what they were wearing go up in smoke as fire destroyed the Fairview hotel, North Edmonton.
 About $50,000 damage was suffered as the three-story building burned for approximately three hours. The hotel is located across from the Exhibition Grounds at 7702 118 avenue.
 The proprietor, Joseph Sillanpaa, said all 45 rooms and the four suites in the building were occupied. He stated the building was partially covered by insurance. Most of the tenants carried no insurance on their furniture or belongings.

NO ONE was injured in the fire although many narrow escapes could be seen as firemen and bystanders dodged pieces of the roof and wall as these fell to the ground in flames.
 Although the building was not burned to the ground it is considered almost a total loss. The two top floors were burned right out while the main floor suffered only partly by flames but heavily from smoke and water.
 A cafe at the rear of the building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr, wife of the Fairview Cafe proprietor, so cold and shocked she could hardly speak, yesterday watched most of her belongings go up in flames for the second time during 1947. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr operated the

Street Worker Dies When Hit by Truck

Struck on the head by the box of a passing truck as he was working on street railway tracks under the subway at 97 street and 104 avenue about 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, Richard Lewis, 10588 96 street, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Royal Alexandra hospital.
 According to police, driver of the truck was said to be Sydney Lawrence Roland, 8023 78 avenue.
 A witness working with Lewis stated the dead man was working with a pick taking the ice from between the tram tracks. Lewis was hunched over when the truck came south on 97 street and its box struck him.
 Mr. Lewis is Edmonton's thirteenth victim for the year. Last year there were 12 deaths. He

26 Years Ago King Became Prime Minister

OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, still hale and hearty at 73, yesterday observed another milestone in his long political career—the 26th anniversary of the day he first became prime minister.
 It was on Dec. 29, 1921, that he was sworn in as prime minister, president of the privy council, and undersecretary of state for external affairs. Since that time he has been out of office barely more than 10 years.
 Mr. King, who observed his 73rd birthday Dec. 17, now is on the threshold of a new record for longevity in Canadian politics.

KING MICHAEL
 Michael Quits Romania Throne

BUCHAREST, Dec. 30.—(AP)—King Michael abdicated today and the Communist-dominated cabinet immediately declared Romania a "popular democratic republic."
 The handsome, 26-year-old monarch, reported to have sought his government's sanction for marriage with a beautiful Danish princess, 24-year-old Anne of Bourbon-Parma, until his announcement in a broadcast proclamation.
 A HIGH government source said Michael can and "probably will" marry Princess Anne. The informant said he is free to live in Romania and to assume a private name, "probably Mihai of Hohensolms."
 The news of the abdication, blared from loud speakers throughout the capital, struck with the suddenness of a thunderclap and ex-

Winston Churchill Recovers Health

PARIS, Dec. 30.—(Reuters)—There is no further cause for worry about Winston Churchill's health, the British wartime premier's private secretary told Reuters' Paris office by radio-telephone today. Unless something unexpected happened no further bulletins would be issued and Churchill would be considered as having recovered from his recent cold.

47 Persons Killed In Jew, Arab Clash

By Robert Miller
 JERUSALEM, Dec. 30.—(BUP)—The bloodiest battle of Palestine's war of hate was fought at a Haifa oil refinery today, with casualties officially reported as 47 persons killed and 61 wounded.
 Jewish attackers hurled bombs from a speeding limousine into a fleet of 100 Arabs at the plant. The infuriated Arab survivors attacked their fellow Jewish employees and killed them by the score in frenzied beating, stabbing and kicking.
 The dead were listed officially as 36 Jews and 11 Arabs. Of the 61 injured, 14 were Jews and 47 were Arabs.
 PALESTINE authorities credited the bombing attack on the Arabs at the Haifa consolidated refinery to the "black squad" of the Irgun Zvai Leumi, sworn to exact vengeance for every Jew slain.
 Only yesterday the Irgunists threw explosives from a speeding car at the Damascus Gate in Jerusalem. More than a dozen persons died in the blast and the fighting it set off.
 After the Haifa bombing today, the Arabs ran amok. They swarmed over every Jew within reach and raced through the plant searching for those who tried to hide in offices and byways.

Wallace Enters Race For U.S. Presidency

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, stormy petrel of politics, who has been a Republican party member and later a Democratic vice-president, last night announced his candidacy for president as an independent.
 WALLACE, in an address over the Mutual network, said he would campaign for his third party on a platform advocating "peace and prosperity."
 The former cabinet member under the late President Roosevelt accused the Democratic and Republican parties of standing "for a policy which opens the door to war in our lifetime, and makes war certain for our children."
 He declared that the menace in peace is greater than ever before and "that menace can be met and overcome only by a new political alignment in America which re-aligns in America which re-aligns

Many Germans Enlist In Foreign Legion

By Jacques Armand-Prevost
PARIS, Dec. 30. — (AP) — Since the war it is estimated that about 3,000 German soldiers have enlisted in the French Foreign Legion, the hard core of crack fighting men which for more than a century has been a mainstay of France's colonial empire.

The German contingent thus probably comes close to the total allowed, for the number of ex-Wehrmacht men never exceeded 25 per cent of the total strength of the Legion. The exact number of men serving in the famous corps is a secret, but it has been estimated authoritatively at about 15,000, with a present recruiting rate of about 300 a month.

Men from disrupted and unsettled countries always have sought to enlist in the Legion and French military authorities are well aware of the many German eagles to sign a Legion contract. Since the Legion traditionally asks no personal questions and a recruit may adopt any identity he chooses, a thorough screening may seem to be difficult, but the procedure is simple.

Suppose a man enters one of the recruiting centers at Kiel, for instance. A Legion intelligence officer asks his name and nationality.

"My name is Dupont," he replied in a strong German accent, "and I was born in Paris, arrested by the Nazis and deported to Germany."

The Legion intelligence service is discreet, intelligent and sharp. It takes out of a hundred, the man's real identity is discovered. There is a medical test, to determine the candidate's physical fitness for the corps' rigid requirements and to detect former Nazi carrying suspicious tattooing.

"Now, YOUR last name," the officer says. Then, "What's your last name back there you came from?"

A Tower Of Babel

Complete Slav Unity Still Far Distant

By Harold G. Laycock
LONDON, Dec. 30. — (AP) — Marshal Tito's current tour of the Balkan arena, scratching his name on peninsula-wide treaties, suggests a revival of pan-Slavism—the ancient pattern of complete Slav unity—but this time embroidered with non-Slav Magyars, with Latin Romanians and Indo-European Albanians.

The Slav race, largest linguistic group in Europe, comprises Yugoslavs (Serbs, Croats, Slovenes, Montenegrins), Bulgars, Macedonians, Czechoslovaks and Poles, and a mass of Russians sprawling eastward into Asia.

Like a bulldozer, Yugoslavia's Communist dictator has circled southeast Europe, ostensibly moving down these directions which for pre-war decades apiked the ideas of Balkan homogeneity.

Though for years after the treaty of Trianon looped Transylvania off Hungary as a gift for Romania, the flag of Budapest remained at half-staff, Marshal Tito has stretched his arms across the sulen Transylvania down and led the Magyars and Romanians in a jovial rendering of the Balkan equivalent of Auld Lang Syne.

Across the marches of the Dobruja, disputed venomously for generations by Romanian and Bulgars, the same forgiving air hung. The Banat, that corner of Yugoslavia populated by 500,000 Hungarians whom Marshal Tito never forget, and Macedonia both seem to have been ignored by the Marshal Tito's whirlwind rounds in Budapest and Sofia.

Yet pure pan-Slavism, appears

Manitoba laps File Many Claims

WINNIPEG, Dec. 30. — (CP) — Harold Hirose, Winnipeg accountant working on claims for the co-operative committee on Japanese-Canadian, said yesterday that claims totaling $400,000 in properties sold and lost as a result of wartime exodus from British Columbia have been filed here by Japanese-Canadian now residing in Manitoba and Western Ontario.

Deadline for submission of the claims has been set at Jan. 15. The 130 claims have been received from Manitoba, 23 from Fort William and six from Geraldton, Ont. Hirose said that more claims are coming in and are expected to reach a final total of $400,000.

Filed against the government, the claims cover properties sold under the existing market values at sales conducted after the evacuation and goods lost, strayed or stolen after the evacuation.

Urge Controls Be Reinforced

MONTREAL, Dec. 30. — (CP) — A resolution urging reinforcement of price and rationing controls and food subsidies was passed yesterday by delegates to the annual National Convention of the Communist Party of Canada.

The convention, which continues today, also resolved that "Department of Veterans Affairs, and a scattering of other nationalities, Russian citizens are admitted under a French law, French citizens are not admitted—they are enlisted as Belgians of French Swiss."

LONDON, Dec. 30. — (Reuters) — "Oxycoats" for infant passengers now being installed in the British Overseas Airways Corporation. An "oxycoat" says BAC, is an oxygen curtain of pale blue, non-inflammable glass cloth which will protect babies against hungry weather.

Workers must be made "indignant at the one-sided character of the government policy. The party must develop the mood to resist cuts and shortages, the mood to demand wage advances to meet the rising costs of living, and the fulfillment of their demands."

Arthur Deakin, who succeeds as Foreign Secretary, Minister of Transport and General Workers' Union, promptly replied to the Communist challenge with an appeal to trade unionists to safeguard their organizations as Communist tactics.

"We cannot allow to allow the Communist attempt infiltration into and domination of trade unions to succeed," he said. "Nor can we tolerate the continual interference, and the launching of industrial programs, on wages and conditions, by the Communist party."

Many union members did not trouble to vote when officers were elected and Communist sympathizers were elected to high posts by a small proportion of actual membership. Communists mobilized every party member to obtain every vote, he said.

For Assassination Plot Pre-war Premier of Burma, U Saw Sentenced to Death

RANGOON, Dec. 30. — (AP) — U Saw, pre-war premier of Burma, today was sentenced to death in a Burma special tribunal which convicted him of abetting the murder of U Aung San and other Burmese ministers last July.

Eight others accused in the same case also were convicted and sentenced to die. Ba Nyan, who turned state's evidence, was acquitted.

U Saw was leader of the Myittha Party, which was in opposition to the anti-Fascist People's Freedom League of Aung San, who had been elected to become the first premier of an independent republic of Burma next year.

U Saw was a anti-Communist "strong man," who killed with his colleagues by five assassins who referred the council chamber, sprayed the room with machine-guns and then escaped to Java.

Plan All-Out Attack British Communists To Hit Govt.'s Policies

By James McCook
LONDON, Dec. 30. — (CP) — An open declaration of war on Labor government policies by the British Communist Party is expected to reveal Communist strength in trade union, the subject of endless speculation.

The government takes the new Communist line seriously. The official Communist party has only 42,000 members, but its influence is felt in the docks, in the mines, in the transport workers and engineers, key men in the industrial apparatus.

Another symptom of Communist tactics had been attacks on British trade union leaders who support the Labor government by the Communist Party of Great Britain.

British Labor leaders are enraged by developments which support the Labor government by the Communist Party of Great Britain. They are enraged by developments which support the Labor government by the Communist Party of Great Britain.

Royal Canadian Navy Settles Firmly Into Framework Of Peace

OTTAWA, Dec. 30. — (CP) — In the second full year of peace, the Royal Canadian Navy shed the last vestiges of its wartime role and settled firmly into the framework of peace.

Question Of Peace Settlement

United States Facing Serious Japan Problem

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. — (CP) — The United States, which largely engineered the defeat of Japan, now faces the problem of what to do with the conquered country. The problem is complicated by the failure of Allied unity in Europe.

Appeasement to Russia to quicken Soviet aid in the war against Japan has been used to belittle attempts to bring peace to Europe and seems certain to lead to a new Far East war.

Observers here look for a new Far East policy to be initiated by the United States since it now seems certain that the major allies must proceed to do what they can to make peace in Europe without the co-operation of Russia, the administration is resigned to a similar situation in the Far East.

Canada has a fixed right to participate in the Japanese peace treaty-writing job and has been a member on the Far Eastern Commission, directing the administration of that country since the surrender.

The Russian idea is that the peace should be made with the present situation, by the Big Four—Britain, Russia, the United States and China—would provide the basis for the preliminary.

However it appears likely because of the dismal failure of the Big Four (with France in place of some next spring.

"And on Earth, Good Will"

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Mr. Drew Pearson's Friendship Train probably has done more to counteract lies about American motives than any other voice of natives. The children who met the train here on the Pacific coast, appealing to man's better nature, and to that best of God.

The machine that attended the war conferences culminating at Potsdam came from an inner voice any wars of Russia, to the racial war of the German revolution, to international war again. And the spirit of war itself—the spirit of violence—should have been van-of France clearly were not imperialists." And the children who greeted its trucks beyond the border were not imperialists. The spirit that had been reborn after them telling, "I am the gift of a child," was the spirit of the bitter edge and the bitter charity. Children, that whispered, "This is not the way to peace."

THEY were not imperialists. Their action, peace is reconstruction of the life of humanity. In measure, as the horrors of the last war had surpassed the horrors of all previous wars, so the peace that was born of the breath of vision, magnanimity, faith, and reconciliation truly could be beyond, no doubt, the capacities of the human mind.

BUT THERE were those who called for revenge, beyond the call of justice, in some perverted notion that this could be peace. And they were the kind of people that has no less fear of peace. As rejected peace, hardening in their fancy of history as a perpetual ally— as one understanding his position. "WANT A THOMPSON?"

ALTOGETHER THINGS are better, says the Christian, than things immediately previous because we are behaving more like the angels.

But not so far beyond them as the measure taken would indicate. For the cannibals of society had been so long at it that they could not be stopped by emulating the angels. They had made it a disease of the mind and heart. It is the spirit that rejects God and the heart that rejects God. God impose on man of these, perhaps the strongest signs, the more support in the Congress than it has in the past. Nothing would assure the passage of the Marshall Plan more effectively than a demonstration in Western Europe that it can put its own house in order. This is the point which Congress is watching, and it is continually asking itself whether the men like Senator Taft last fortnight has gone some way toward satisfying their fears. The

When the most powerful Republican in the Senate, Senator Charles McNary, announced that he would support a bill to reduce the interim program from $927 to $400 million, it was obvious that McNary and the other Republicans would attempt to limit the long-term appropriation. McNary's long-term appropriation would be "a few feet off shore," said Senator McNary. "If the good is to grow high, a little less water in the foot-rot pool is what a substantial farmer needs."

They seem to have grasped the fact that even with the Marshall plan, they will ship abroad next year less than this year, and hence that the existing inflationary pressures will not be increased by the attempt to save Europe.

INFLATION and the fear of it have grown lately, something that has not been true for years. The universal argument for the Marshall Plan. The breakdown of the world into two camps, the East and the West, the division of the world into two blocs, and the U.S. determination to contain Communism, leave little room for any other alternatives. It can abandon western

Election Day Presents Problem

TORONTO, Dec. 30.—(CP)—Liquor on New Year's Eve in Toronto hotels and night clubs is being a problem in many ways this time.

The establishments had already been closed for the day. The Liquor Control Board that regulates the sale of liquor in Ontario, however, has decided that the sale of liquor should continue until 2 a.m. on New Year's Eve, ending hours every night except Saturday, when it is midnight.

One thoughtful soul pointed out that this New Year's Day is election day, and that the sale of liquor on this day would be a problem in many ways this time.

Canadians And Sons Again Battle To Tie

WETASKIWIN, Dec. 30.—Clarence Mohr's Wetaskiwin Canadians jumped into a one-goal lead on two occasions here last night, but Lethbridge Native Sons came back to knot the score each time and gained a 2-2 draw in an exhibition minor league game of the season at the Lethbridge arena.

Thus "Scotty" Mohr's southern Alberta contingent and Wetaskiwin had to be content with an even split in the exhibition series with Canadians. Saturday's game at Edmonton finished in a 2-2 deadlock.

THE HOMESTERS vaulted into early lead in the initial stanza, but Sons evened the contest before the end of the session. Canadians were back in front in the middle frame, only to have Lethbridge again tie it up. A scuffle in the third period which saw officials' hands out for penalties.

Canadian marksmen were Don Robertson and Don Appleton. Lethbridge's Bob Hamilton and Ed Donohue easily the best visitors—tallied goals for Lethbridge.

IT WAS ROBERTSON who sent Canadians into their first lead when he scored from the slot, pushing the die into the tie between Lethbridge's Redwings.

Don Robertson scored again at 13:40 mark when he scored from the slot, pushing the die into the tie between Lethbridge's Redwings.

PLAYERS were "full of fire" in the middle stanza and as a result six penalties were handed out, four to Sons and two to Canadians. Again it only took the "Redbirds" a matter of 32 seconds to climb into another one-goal lead.

Greco "Outstanding"

NBA Names Walcott As Logical Contender

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(AP)—The National Boxing Association, after 21-month heavyweight hunt, finally found a logical contender for the title owned by Joe Louis.

The NBA quarterly ratings came out last night, and to the surprise of practically no one, Jerry Joe Walcott was right behind the champ.

Anyone who doesn't know Walcott was promoted from the honorable mention to the logical contender class would think out on the question.

"Where were you on the night of Dec. 2?"

FOR THAT WAS the night Walcott knocked Louis kicking tired, but lost a split decision. Among the welterweights, Montreal's Johnny Green was ranked as an "outstanding boxer."

Along with the ratings came a word of warning from J. Greco, NBA president. He wants champions to be more regular in defending their titles.

HE WAS PARTICULARLY critical of featherweight champion Willie Pep. "Long overdue for a title defense," said Greco.

THE RINGSIDE heavyweight champion Joe Walcott, New York, was ranked as "outstanding" by Greco.

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT champion, Lou Savarese, New Jersey, was ranked as "outstanding" by Greco.

MIDDLEWEIGHT champion, Rocky Marciano, New York, was ranked as "outstanding" by Greco.

EAC Juveniles

Chalk Up 5th Straight Win

The league-leading EACs extended their winning streak to five straight games last night, sinking South Side 5-3 in a City Junior Hockey League fixture on the South Side rink. On the other front, Canadians and the celandwelling Maple Leafs fought to a 3-3 stalemate.

EACs, with Gordon Stogryn and Al Bryant leading the way, climbed in a 2-0 lead in the first period, when Cook's assist helped them score in the second, and then went on a three-goal rampage in the final stanza.

JACK O'SHEA, fleet EAC performer, was the big thorn in the South Side's side, nailing a brace of markers into the hemp. Bueens garnered a goal, and assist, and Ken L'Heureux drew one assist for the winners. Sabourin and Bueens scored the other two goals for South Side.

AS A RESULT of hiding the puck, South Side's defense was forced to a 2-3 draw, Canadians jumped into a second-place tie with South Side in the league.

Maple Leafs were holding down bottom spot, while the Maple Leafs were tied for last place.

Opportunistic Leafs Stun Stampedes 7-6

JACK HEXIMER Fires Winner And 2 Others

CALGARY, Dec. 30.—(CP)—A battling band of Lethbridge Maple Leafs taking advantage of every opportunity when presented with lapses by Calgary Stampede, last night skated off with a 7-6 Western Canada Senior Hockey League victory.

LEAFS moved them to within two points of the third place Edmonton Flyers in the league standing.

LED BY JACK HEXIMER, who scored three goals and assisted on another, Leafs passed up no bet as they came from behind twice to tie the game and then put down repeated Stampede.

THE LETHBRIDGE team missed forcing play into overtime.

IT WAS 2-2 in the first session with Leafs leading 2-1 at the 11:40 mark, and then they scored 4-4 in the second as Stampede tied the rallying, and then Stan Maxwell scored the winning goal five minutes from the end of the first half.

HEXIMER came up with two 11-point games, outting Ed Austin 1-3 and Jack Allister 1-3. While Hunter left P. Clement to the sidelines with a narrow 13-11 triumph.

THE "BRITISH" seemed to be suffering from the aftermath of the Stampede game, but they were not the pressure at the end of the game.

Oil Find At Leduc
Biggest News Of '47

Discovery of oil in the Edmonton district and development of a major oil field within 10 months of placing the discovery well on production forms a bright background for the story of 1947 in the province of Alberta.

SINCE Feb. 15, when the first Imperial oil well went on production with a flash flow of 1,900 barrels a day, 22 successful wells have been drilled and five others abandoned after drilling below the production horizon. A new town, Devon, has been laid out and an oil refinery to take care of the crude produced from the new field is being set up on the outskirts of the city.

The five reported failures have added grist to the mill of the producing zone in an estimated direction. It is now estimated that the Devonian 2 structure, one of the producing sub-surface stratum, is about 4 miles wide and four miles long. Only the eastern border of the next deeper structure, termed D3, is so far known, but the proven producing area from D2 is said to be roughly five miles in length and two and a half miles wide.

However, reports emphasize the exact area from which either zone will produce are not yet definite.

TOTAL FIELD PRODUCTION to the end of November, the latest figures available show that 272,376 barrels of oil had been drained from the field up to that date with average production up to a daily rate of 2,822 barrels.

Product from the new field is a light oil with a high prisms in gasoline, selling at wellhead at $5.41 a barrel.

Observers estimate that proven oil reserves of the field would be between 75 million and 90 million barrels, with the D2 reserves said to be good for more than 25 million of that total.

This means a financial bonanza which brings wealth to more than

The board regulations set production from D2 wells at a top of 100 barrels a day and from D3 producers at 150. This order was later withdrawn, but after conference with producing companies was re-issued. It will remain in force until a conservation plan is drawn up, which will be completed about the middle of February. The board now is studying production and gas-pressure figures to arrive at efficient production figures for the field.

Courage And Hope

Labor Minister, Leaders
In New Year Greetings

OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell, in extending New Year's greetings to Canadian workers and their families, last night pointed out increased production as one of the best ways of keeping incomes in line with the cost-of-living.

Mr. Mitchell released his message at the same time as A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, and Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, extended greetings to the members of their unions.

Mr. Mosher said he felt there were many good reasons "for an attitude of courage and hope as we enter the New Year." Mr. Bengough said the membership would continue to arrive at security both at home and abroad.

"We have been fortunate since the war ended with we compare our lot with the privations and instability of millions of other persons elsewhere in the world," said Mr. Mitchell. "We have had high employment and we have not lacked good nourishing food. We have been able to participate in the pleasures of life; above all, we have had freedom which is the most precious of all our privileges, so we can all be very thankful for the past as another year begins."

Mr. Mosher said that "apart from the fact that we may find encouragement in looking at the present from the back, the record of the past, we all realize that unless we have some faith in the future, we shall drift into despair."

Mr. Bengough said the "vast majority of the working people of Canada are not a dissatisfied section of Canada's population that hollers just for the sake of it."

The workers were "loyal Canadians who value Canada's democracy and democratic way of life. We do not feel that it is working effectively as long as we have faith and want still the lot of many Canadians. It is with this view that we are working for change and improvement."

Says:

I get the feeling that when Mark Hellinger starts coming through his obits with that funny little smile curling the corner of his mouth, a smile I always felt was more tenderness than cynicism, that better be a piece on hand from his old friend and pupil and nearest neighbor, saying it's his good where you are, Mark, I'll be seeing you one of these days.

Just like that, sort of off-the-shoulder and hard-boiled with never a hint that you loved the guy and are going to miss him even if you didn't see much of him in years past when he was on the Coast, because in the Broadway tradition you don't wear your feelings on your sleeve. It is even the Broadway pose that you love the guy and he can take care of you or leave 'em.

Real Friend

Of course, it's a fake, because you get to thinking of Mark, so young at 44, stretched out of the effervescent life he so loved to live and the friends and the characters and the people, and sealed away in a box, and then you realize that he was dear to you and so you quickly get tough about it, lest you really catch on and give him the quick wave and the "So long, kid!"

Mark and I were friends when the Daily News was a pup down on Park Place in New York. His desk was not far from mine. He was the Broadway columnist and I wrote the sports column, as between us, to drum up trade, we started the first of those phony columnist feuds in which we abused one another in our respective columns, always staying up night after night and newsgroups and newsgroups to pull on one another. But inside the office, and out too, ours was a warm relationship in which, after six years, we were just the mentor and the incredibly naive and underdeveloped pupil.

For Hellinger, young as he was, was filled with that particular species of wisdom and knowledge of human beings and their complex relationship with life that comes with exposure to the Broadway beat. I saw life only as a beautiful illusion, a complete unavailability. Mark, who, at a very tender age, had no illusions left, loved life and people as they are, and not as anyone pretended they were, Hellinger was the bigger man.

The Hard Way

He tried to teach me, to show me, to point out to me, the pale, surreal colors of the life that I was inhabiting and introducing me to the richer shades I was missing. He was wrong. So I remained, just a few affectionate, playful, but at last I did get the chance to say to him the last time I saw him in California, some years back, "Kid, were you right?"

Most of Mark's stories have a twist of cynicism at the end, but he loved the danger and the fast, but this was his protective coloration so that he would be in with the mob he loved and escape detection for the rest of his life. He did not escape because he had the love of everyone who knew him. I never heard he was successful in his escape.

A funny epiphany wrote the attack at the height of his success as a writer, journalist and moving picture producer. They wrote him up as big bigger and a pick-up of his last dinner with me. It was true enough, but there were more things to say to Mark Hellinger when he was sweet. He was kind. He was gentle. He was happy and he was good. He worked hard. He never double-crossed his friends. He was rich in talent, but he pulled himself up by his bootstraps from a nobody to a national figure. When he died, he left a hole in the hearts of many, including my own.

Issues Warning: Trees Become Dry

Christmas trees that were decorated on "The Night Before Christmas" are now becoming dry and flammable. It is stated in a warning issued by officials of the Edmonton Safety Council today. Trees that were not placed in water and should be taken out of the house at once, the council warns. Trees that were properly cut at the base and placed in water will have absorbed about two gallons in the past week and are in better shape.

Chief James Macgregor reports that Christmas trees have not contributed to any fires as yet this year in Edmonton, but warns that New Year parties and decorations are a bad combination, and suggests that trees should be put out in the lane for collection before New Year's Eve.

Library Safe Smashed Open

A safe in the public library was battered open and $30 cash taken Monday night of Tuesday morning, according to city police Tuesday. The break-in was reported when a janitor arrived for work at 1 a.m. Tuesday.

Entry was gained by smashing the glass out of a small door on the west side of the building, and removing a large pane of glass from an inner door.

The safe is located in a room adjacent to the Librarian H. C. Gourlay's office.

Home Oil Well Flows 140 Bbls.

One well went on production Monday, raising the number to 27, and five more are being prepared to be "brought in" sometime before the end of the week, according to Tuesday reports on development of the Leduc sector of the Edmonton oil fields.

Home Oil Company-Leduc No. 1, long delayed due to lost circulation, Monday made its entry as an actual producer, flowing 140 barrels of crude from the 10 oil in the first hour on open flow. The flow was then restricted by a 10-64 of an inch choke.

THIS WELL LOST circulation in the D3 zone and large quantities of mud, bent pipe, and other substances had to be loaded into the formation to restore circulation. These substances must be cleaned out before the potential of the well can be known and Tuesday it was producing intermittently, making oil plus drilling fluid, and other material.

Three other wells, Globe Leduc West No. 2, Central Leduc-Tyro No. 2 and Imperial-Leduc No. 20, reported as producers Wednesday Monday, Tuesday were still awaiting to be brought into production. Seabaring was started at Imperial 26 this morning.

At two other Imperial Oil Ltd. wells in the Leduc sector, Nos. 23 and 27, casing was being run Tuesday morning, indicating that success has been assured. When these two wells go on production and the other three are "brought in" it will raise the number of actual producers to 32.

IMPERIAL'S WOODBEND No. 1, located three and one quarter miles northwest of the known Leduc sector limits, has regained flow. It is pictured above, in a scene taken after the well has entered the D3 of the Devonian at a depth of 5,231 feet, said to be favorable.

Barring further complications, the well will likely be tested this week and supply an answer to the D3 prospects of the well.

Reports from other Imperial wells in the Edmonton district today are:

Muskeg, drilling at 7,981 feet; Battle Lake, drilling at 8,477 feet; Muskeg, drilling at 8,477 feet; 500 feet; Leduc No. 23, drilling at 5,076 feet; Leduc No. 28, drilling at 4,231 feet; Leduc No. 25, drilling at 3,914 feet; Leduc No. 20, drilling at 3,076 feet; Leduc No. 31, drilling at 2,704 feet.

Thief Is Caught After Short Chase

In a chase on foot for about five blocks shortly after 2 a.m. Tuesday, Constable Roger Appender caught a thief who had stolen a coat of a woman, allegedly a smash and grab robbery at the Jewellery 1013 9th street.

Constable Hopper and Constable Appender, who were on patrol, saw a man running away from them. He was wearing a dark coat and a hat. They followed him for about five blocks and caught him at the Jewellery 1013 9th street.

Gauthier admitted to police he was an ex-convict and on searching him, police found a stolen coat. He was taken to the police station and charged with theft.

Through questioning, it was learned that Gauthier's partner was living. Police investigated and found that he had left his quarters in the morning and had not returned. He was taken to the police station and charged with theft.

Heavy Smoke Hampers Efforts of Firemen

Heavy clouds of smoke poured from the Fairview Hotel to hamper work of firemen on Monday afternoon. They are pictured above, in a scene taken shortly after the fire started, around 2:12 p.m. A heavy column of smoke rose almost vertically in the sky and was visible all over the city. In the scene below, three residents of the hotel are standing among a cluster of furniture and personal effects saved from the building.

900 Farms in District Now Served With Power
Between 800 and 900 farms in the Edmonton area now are served by electric power provided by the Calgary Power Company Ltd. H. H. Sherman, general manager of the company, revealed here Tuesday.

Mr. Sherman said that work on power lines to serve the Leduc oil fields and the new town of Devon is proceeding satisfactorily.

Monday Mr. Sherman paid a visit to the site of the Imperial Oil Limited refinery at Clover Bar. The Calgary Power Co. will serve the refinery with electric energy, but this work will not be of an extensive nature, as the district already is served by power lines.

It will be largely a case of stringing in leads from main power lines close to the plant into the refinery.

The company has rural electrification plans for the area near the Blackfalds area, near Red Deer, and in the Gladsby district, near High River, Mr. Sherman stated.

Govt. Officials Will Attend Meet
The government of Alberta will be represented at a meeting of the Western Canada Stock Growers' Association in Lethbridge on Dec. 31, 16 and 17 by Hon. D. B. Maclean, minister of agriculture and other officials.

The meeting was learned on Tuesday morning.

Glow Plainly Seen in Southern Sky Flareup at Globe-Leduc Well Springs Flood of Queries in City

By JACK WILCE

How one man controlling a column of flame about 50 feet high could cause such a flare-up among Edmonton residents, and keep The Edmonton Bulletin cameraman and this reporter up until 3 a.m. is beyond me—but he did.

IT ALL STARTED Monday evening in the Leduc oil fields when workers burned excess gas out of Globe Leduc No. 1 well. The glow from the flare was easily seen in Edmonton, from shortly after midnight until 3 a.m. Tuesday. The southeastern sky was lit up by a pinkish glow that seemed to come from behind a filmy cloud-bank. The glow flashed brightly from time to time and at other times subsided in brilliance.

At the phone jangled as I was busy writing a story. The night editor answered, mumbled a few words and hung up. He turned and said: "Someone just phoned to ask why the sky is so bright. Tell them south. Better phone the fire department."

No satisfaction there. The fire department had been questioned about the sight. The result was that the glow was not oil wells at Leduc. So phoned there. The switchboard operator stated, "No fire here, there seems to be one at the oil fields though." In the meantime the office phone was ringing constantly and every one on hand including the janitor was busy.

The same "Why the red glow to the south" came asked in the office. That indicated they thought the world was coming to an end.

Eric Brand, ever ready cameraman, prepared hurriedly for the trip to Leduc. He had only a short time before completed pictures of the Fairview hotel fire. He had to make a dash for it, taking two short cuts to reach the Calgary highway. We finished up once at a hotel and then drove to Leduc.

Then on to the Calgary highway. All the time our enthusiasm was growing for there sure was a bright glow in the sky. We were trying to find a way to Leduc.

Off the main highway, over to the west a few miles, the glow was becoming more hypnotizing all the time. By the way, once again we were looking for a sign that said "This way to Leduc oil fields." We went straight ahead, once again wound up at a farmer's yard.

At last we arrived at the field. But all seemed deserted. There was no sign of us. We were looking for a sign that said "This way to Leduc oil fields." We went straight ahead, once again wound up at a farmer's yard.

I opened the door, stretched, looked at the exciting object, the 50-foot high column of flame. "Sure, sure," I said. "Off he went. He then took a couple of p.m.

Then the man with the ear muffs on, and obviously a real oil man, became eloquent and stated: "It's a flare-up. You are doing here away, burning excess gas."

Just cleaning out the hole," was the reply.

"For what purpose?" I asked.

"For production purposes, the well is being cleaned out," he said.

"When did you finish drilling this?" I asked.

"Few days ago, been waiting for the well to be cleaned out," he said.

To Cost $2,000,000
Propose Big Extension To University Hospital

Preliminary sketches for the proposed $2,000,000 extension to the University Hospital are being drawn by the firm of Somerville, Toronto, consulting architect for the project.

MR. SOMERVILLE is in Edmonton on a visit to the city. He is accompanied by G. Heath Macdonald, resident architect and Arthur Arnold, provincial superintendent of buildings.

The planned extensions will provide for 100 additional beds and will replace the present children's hospital with fully modern departments.

There will also be a large number of new wards, a new private and public type. No ward in the new extension will have more than four beds.

A PAVING program will be carried out in the vicinity of the new hospital which will be built on the south end of the existing building. New paving will be laid on the south end of the building.

Happiness Depends On Co-Operation

It is a matter of common knowledge that the well-being of every married couple depends upon their getting along amicably with each other. The happiness of every marriage depends not upon whether a husband and wife are rich or poor, or whether they live in a mansion or a cold water flat, or upon their having been brought up in the same environment and educated in the same school, or upon both of them being fine people with high ideals.

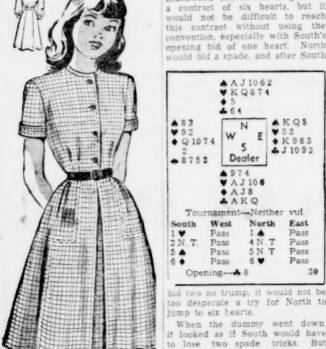

It doesn't even depend upon how much they love each other, for we all know dozens of cases in which a husband and wife, who are passionately devoted to each other, fight like cats and dogs and make homes in which there is never any peace or rest. With them every word is the fighting word. There is no subject so innocuous that they cannot get to a bitter argument over it. They hurt the very nerves at each other, and just because they know each other's vulnerable spots so well their talks always go home.

One would think that intelligent men and women who realize that their marriages are being wrecked by their uncoordinated quarrelling, would stop it, but they don't. They say they cannot help it, which, of course, is not true, for they get along harmoniously enough with everyone else except the ones that it is most important for them to get along with.

Take this pathetic letter, which is one of thousands that come to this column dealing with this terrible problem. A young wife writes that she loves her husband dearly yet she is thinking of leaving him because they cannot get along together. "We are always fighting over nothing," she writes. "After it is over we kiss and make up, but an hour we are at it again, and I am getting sick and tired of fighting."

My husband is good to me and my

Hold Contest On Farm Homes

OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—(CP)—The ideal Canadian farm home, its plan and equipment, may emerge from a contest announced yesterday by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. And this time at least the farmer's wife who says what she wants.

The corporation said in a statement it has invited all provincial governments to cooperate in sponsoring the contest, to be known as the Better Farm House Competition. It will be open to any local group of farm homes already operating as a unit but not to individuals.

The contest is being organized on a provincial basis and groups within each province only will compete with one another. Prizes up to $500 for each province are being provided by the corporation and will be awarded for the best answers to and comments on a list of questions now being made available to eligible units.

The questions, designed to obtain first-hand information on the housing needs and desires of farm families, may be discussed at local group meetings. The answers and comments are to represent the considered opinion of the unit and written reports among them will be used by the corporation in developing new farm homes.
